Spiritualists Hold an All-Day Session

Yesterday. The Washington Society of Spiritualists celebrated the national jubilee yesterday with an all-day program at Metzerott Hall. President Milan C. Edson was in the chair. The exercises were begun at 11 o'clock. They were opened by prayer, and an invocation was delivered by Mrs. A. M. Glading, the trance speaker. President Edson followed in a few remarks. Mr. Henry M. Higby also spoke. A poem, said to be suggested by spirit control, was recited by Misses Pearl Edson, Daisy Rowland, Stella Steinberg and Rosie and Fan-nie Smith. Other songs and recita-tions followed. Little Frida Julian Nobbe was "dedicated." Homer Altemus contributed a solo, and the contrib utors to the children's program were Miss Master Willie Schmidt, Mastre Albert Willis, Miss Rose Smith, Miss Steinberg and Miss Stella Steinberg. H. T. Barrett, president of the National Association of New York state, spoke, and

Miss Della Brian gave "tests."

Washington and New York Gas.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: Notwithstanding the statement that Washington has "the best government in the world," and that the Tammany ring gives New York about the worst in the world, the facts and figures as to street lighting do not bear out these statements. The mayor of New York, in speaking of the gas companies there, says: "The city is at the mercy of these companies. They farm out the territory to suit their convenience, and charge us what they please," and yet, bad as is their condition, they pay one company but $12 a year for street pay one company out 312 a year for street gas lamps, burning 3,820 hours, another company $12.50,20r $13.04 for $4,000 hours, and the third company $17.50, while here in the District we pay $21.50 per lamp! Here's a chance for Mr. Dockery's com-

A Good Suggestion. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

A few days ago in conversation with a Virginia farmer, who ships milk and butter to this market. I was informed by him that to this market, I was informed by him that he had several hundred gallons of skimmed d15-3t HENRY FRANC & SON, Cor. 7th & D milk daily, which he virtually threw away, as there was no sale for it, and it was only worth a cent a gallon when fed to hogs. This farmer is not the only one with a surplus of skimmed milk willing to dispose of it at nominal figures, and Washington just now has thousands of poor people who are and would be glad to buy this milk at eight or ten cents a gallon. However, there is no way to get it, and now is a good time for the Associated Charities to establish a stand in Center Market, and sell them, at prices merely sufficient to cover all ex-penses, this skimmed milk, which will, in penses, this skimmed milk, which win, in very many instances, fill a long-felt want during the cold weather that is coming upon us. Will The Star give the tip to the Associated Charities' people? W. J.
